IT'S FAIR TIME IN PORTERVILLE

PORTERVILLE, May 14 — It's fair time again in Porterville — for the 17th time, to be exact.

Preparing for official opening the morning of May 21 are commercial exhibitors, fair workmen, and members of the Burton and Westfield 4-H clubs, and Porterville Future Farmers. Other groups will be "lending a hand" prior to next Thursday morning.

Heavy movement onto the grounds by commercial exhibitors is expected over the weekend, with a night watchman to start Sunday night and continue throughout the fair.

Home economics section of the fair will be judged starting Tuesday, at the Porterville Women's clubhouse, under the general chairmanship of Mrs. John Guthrie. Assisting her as co-chairmen are: Mesdames Harold Wilcox and Farm and Home Commercial Exhibits; Automobile and Farm Equipment Exhibits; Million Dollar Livestock Display; Locally-Operated Food and Drink Concessions; Flower Show; Home Economics, Agriculture and Horticulture Displays; Johnny Lopez Carnival Rides.

THERE'S BEEN some changes in the vicinity of the Porterville fair grounds since last year - Olive street has been extended along the south side of the grounds, which provides additional street parking; National Guard armory construction has been started on the southeast corner of the grounds, which cuts into parking space, but additional parking is provided along the southwest side of the grounds.

Entrance to the grounds off Olive street can be seen in the photo; a third main gate will be operated during the evening at the south end of the livestock area.

FOR THE FAMILY - A Professional Stage Show Each Night Of The Fair

Editorial Comment

LET'S DO HAVE FUN AT THE FAIR

Seems like we all get wound up tighter and tighter these days, what with the increasing rush and roar of modern living — in fact, maybe too tight, and maybe a little relaxation is in order, say like relaxing at the Porterville fair.

We suggest that you sort of arrange your affairs so that you can enjoy yourself, and your friends, at the fair. Take the family along with you, sit around and talk to folks you maybe haven't seen in quite a spell, take a look at what's at the fair, enjoy the night show and the fun.

If you have children who are exhibiting, well, chances are you'll be doing a little something beside relaxing, but if you're one of the several thousand folks who are not among the several hundred directly involved, then come on out to the fair, for fun.

Take a look at what our young folks are doing — our Future Farmers and our 4-Hers, in the fields of livestock production, home economics, farm mechanics. After all, the whole idea of the Porterville fair evolves around giving a boost to our young people while at the same time providing an event that the entire family can enjoy.

And see what the commercial exhibitors have in store for you. They always have real interesting displays — just take time to look at them.

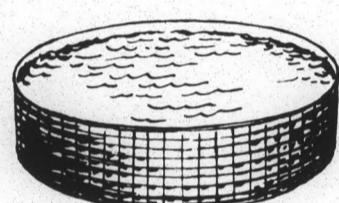

And food — well that home-cooked stuff tastes mighty good at the Porterville fair, especially, when you have a sandwich, or a big glass of cold orange juice while you're talking to an old friend.

So make a date right now. Take in the Porterville fair this year. And when you get there, just relax and enjoy yourself.

PROFESSIONAL GRANDSTAND SHOW, LIVESTOCK PARADES, STUDIO BAND WILL BE FEATURED AT THE '64 FAIR

PORTEVILLE, May 14 — A great, circus-type outdoor show will be featured each night of the 1964 Porterville fair, May 21, 22 and 23, plus livestock parades, presentation of special awards, and a spot by the Fabulous Studio band, directed by Buck Shaffer.

While the professional show will remain the same each night of the fair, other attractions will change. Future Farmers will parade their livestock on Thursday night, May 21; 4-H club members will parade their beef and dairy animals Friday night; the Studio band is slated for Saturday night.

Special all-cotton awards will be made on the main stage Friday night; food and clothing awards will be made Saturday night.

Professional stage show will feature the Lacey Troupe, four girls and a gentleman, who perform acts of acrobatic skill on the rolling globes; Welde's wonderful bears — four of them — that perform on the open stage under control of their trainer; the Volantes, one of the great unicycle acts in show business; the Ruddels, with their comedy trampoline act that has played throughout the world; Miss Connie on the silver strand, and the Toths, a comedy team of knock-about tumblers and acrobats.

Music for the show will be provided by the Al Lyons trio, which will include Hap Gragson of Porterville. Sound for the stage show will be handled by Dean Hahn with the Sunlight Bakery sound system; master of ceremonies for the show will be Bill Rodgers; member of the Porterville Garden club will take care of stage decorations.

Show time each night is 8:15 p.m.; the price of admission to the fair grounds includes the professional night show.

BY BILL RODGERS

IT'S FAIR time again!

AND THAT means 17 years have gone by since the night a committee from the Porterville chamber of commerce met with a group of farmers in the Porterville city hall to talk about starting a fair in Porterville.

WHAT A night that was. The committee wasn't exactly sure of what it was trying to promote; the farmers were sure that the city slickers had cooked up another scheme to get at their money, and nothing was accomplished in loud and argumentive voices.

BUT There were three who knew not what they were doing — Babe Hodgson, Rolla Bishop and one B. Rodgers. They traveled here and there around the valley, looked at fair grounds, talked to fair managers, and in a profound lack of knowledge as to what they were getting into, conned the Porterville chamber of commerce, through the Merchants' committee, into underwriting a fair to the tune of $500. The first fair board was set up — Cyrille Faure, Chet Gilbert, Joe Menne, Vernon Gill, Free-lan Farnsworth, Allan Coates, the three aforementioned promoters, and as legal counsel, for free, Guy Knupp.

MEMBERS OF the Porterville high school board of trustees were amazed and mystified by fast talk to the extent that they OKed a fair in connection with Patrons' day on the high school campus, credit was established here and there by the fair board, and the first fair was staged with great success, including the collapse of the canvass-covered livestock barns during a wind storm.

AFTER THREE years on the high school campus, fair directors suffered delusions and grandeur and expanded to the Rocky Hill arena, planning their budget carefully with grossly under-estimated expenses and just as grossly over-estimated revenue. Major attractions were a home-town-people-operated carnival and a tremendous "Pageant of Porterville", staged by the Barn theater, directed by Pete Tewksbury, and announced by the late Douglas Beatie.

ABOUT A thousand people (it seemed) were needed to operate carnival booths, another thousand were in the pageant cast, and while these people greatly swelled the fair crowd, there was a noticeable lack of action at the box office, since everyone came in on passes. Folks had a great time; the pageant rated rave notices in the press, and the fair lost $6,000 which it didn't have.

AT THAT point the sensible thing would have been to cut the fair off as a bad job, but directors refused to be sensible. They decided to take another fling, moved up on the blind side of the Porterville city council, and talked their way into an agreement to use the municipal ball park, and adjacent property, as a fair grounds.

WITH NO tangible assets, and with a debt of $6,000, directors entered into a contract for a pro-professional grand stand show, direct from Hollywood, and, what with considerable tub thumping, contributions, and volunteer labor, the fair made money.

THAT DID it. Porterville had a fair, but it also had a debt, and creditors were becoming restless. At this point Mrs. Violet Carpenter came up with a $6,000 interest-free loan, secured by signatures of the nine directors.

IN THE years that followed, the present, permanent fair facilities were constructed by people of the Porterville community through such things as providing material at cost, giving of some 5,000 man hours of work on the exhibit building, donating money, donating goods for fair-benefit auctions, giving many hours of time to the fair — all of which added up to a most commendable example of community cooperation. And the $6,000 debt was finally paid off.

SO YOU can enjoy yourself at the 17th annual Porterville fair next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The fair is legally established as a non-profit corporation; all revenue received must be used for the staging and expansion of the fair; no state tax money is involved; it is truly a community enterprise, operated entirely by and for people of this community, with emphasis, of course, on giving a boost to the Future Farmer and 4-H programs, plus offering fine entertainment for the entire family.

DON'T HESITATE, don't speculate, don't wait. Make a date for the 1964 Porterville fair.

JUDGE GEORGE Carter, center, checks out details of the Porterville Fair's Junior Fat Stock sale — of which he is chairman, along with being also a director of the fair. At left is Chet Gilbert, livestock superintendent, who has served on the fair board during its 17 years of existence; left, R. J. Owen, chairman of the fair's sheep division.

PORTEVILLE, May 14 — So you think you can judge livestock?

If you do, you'll get a chance to prove it at the Porterville fair in open livestock judging, starting at 9 a.m., May 23, in show ring No. 1.

This event, always a red hot contest, is open to boys and girls, men and women—and often parents find themselves competing

Water water everywhere

Today you could actually drink a glass of pure, fresh water produced from the salty Pacific Ocean — at the experimental sea water distillation plant operated by Southern California Edison in connection with its steam-electric generating station near Oxnard. Someday this project may help solve one of the Southland's most pressing problems: the need for more water. And any project that helps improve living conditions and encourages development of this area is of vital importance to Edison.

Additionally, Edison and other investor-owned electric companies devote much research to the exploration of new techniques, methods and ideas for the generation, transmission and distribution of electricity. This research is part of the never-ending development of more and more low-cost electric power — and of new ways to use electricity to make your family's life safer, more pleasant, and more rewarding in the bright new all-electric future. For late news on the greatest "treasure hunt" of modern times, please read right.

Answers to key questions about the investor-owned electric utility industry and the all-electric futureHow will the research by the electric industry affect me and my family?

This research is resulting in dozens of "little miracles" that will make your life safer, healthier, more rewarding and more interesting. Low-cost electricity will be there at the touch of your finger (and you won't even have to flip a switch). And new wonders in the all-electric future will help you heat, light, clean, and decorate your home. You'll eat delicious meals, prepared almost as quickly as you can make the selection. You'll scour your pots, keep an eye on the children and even mow your lawn with the help of new electronic wonders. Clean, flameless, low-cost electricity will do most everything but handle your thinking in the all-electric future.

And electricity is one of today's biggest bargains. The chart below shows the national cost picture for residential electricity over the past fifty years.

What else is new?

Almost everything is new in the electric utility business. New principles of power production are being pushed ahead. One travels ionized gas through a magnetic field — and produces electricity without the need for conventional turbine generators. Another transforms chemical energy directly into electric power; other methods convert heat directly into electric energy.

Electricity is efficient and low in cost today. And scores of new developments are on the horizon in the all-electric future!

Will there be enough power for my all-electric future?

Here's the picture of power production up to the year 2,000. With the aid of research and the world's finest engineers and scientists, Edison and America's other investor-owned electric companies stand ready and able to meet in full the future power needs of all Americans.

Pets Take Spotlight Thursday On Opening Night Of The Fair

PORTERVILLE, May 14 — Pets, big ones, little ones, funny ones, and unusual ones, will take the spotlight on opening night of the Porterville fair — next Thursday, May 21.

Under the chairmanship of William H. Joos, the traditional pet parade will get underway at 6:30 p.m., with contestants to bring their pets to the grandstand arena for judging.

Entry blanks are available at schools in the community, and completed blanks must be given to judges on the grounds prior to 6:30 p.m., Thursday. The parade and contest is open to elementary-age children, 5-14 years.

Following judging and the awarding of ribbons to winners, pets will be paraded in front of the grandstand.

Classes for pets include: Smallest pet, longest tail, shortest tail, most spots, most unusual, best trained, longest ears, shortest ears, most useful and largest.

Joos says that the following rules must be observed: 1. A pet can be entered in only one category; 2. Entrants must be responsible for the action of their pets; 3. A pet must be a bona fide pet; 4. Decision of judges will be final; 5. There is no charge to enter pets.

JOHN KECK has headed up the Porterville Fair's gymkhana for several years, and he'll be back in business this year when youngsters of the area ride for ribbons and trophies on Saturday morning, May 23. With John in above photo are Greg Brown, who took high-point honors last year for the fourth consecutive year in the junior division, and his sister Jo Wayne Brown, who was high point winner in the sub-teen division. They'll both be back this year, gunning for another win.

Plenty Of Action Is Promised As Youngsters Ride In Gymkhana

POTERVILLE, May 14—There will be action—and plenty of it—when youngsters of the community ride for ribbons and trophies in the Porterville Fair's annual gymkhana, set for Saturday, May 23, at 10 a.m., in the horse show arena.

Gymkhana director, John Keck, states that two age groups have been set up: 8-13 years and 14-18 years, with all-around trophies to be presented to the top point winner in each group; ribbons go down to fourth place in each event.

Events listed are: In-And-Out stake race, Figure-8 stake race, Quadrangle race, Barrel race, Key hole race, and Sack-on-barrel.

Assisting in the arena will be Herb Brown, Elmer Broad, and Jack Macomber; timers will be Uly Priftike and Bill Thompson; announcing the show will be Dr. Jim Shelton.

Entry blanks are available at The Farm Tribune office, the Porterville chamber of commerce office, and from fair secretary, Bob Board, at the Pacific Telephone office. Entries close at 6 p.m., May 22.

FAIR ACT for 1964 - Welde's Wonderful Bears - four bears, to be exact, that do everything that you've never seen bears do before, like that which two of them in above photo are doing. You'll see them every night of the fair in the outdoor grandstand show.

CHAPEL CHIMES

By Rev. N. J.
Thompson

Savonarola, the great Italian reformer, was grieved by a stupid custom that prevailed at Carnival time. The children of Florence were given a day at the Carnival to throw stones. It was a wild and wicked custom, a hazard to life and limb, and the children enjoyed it immensely.

Savonarola realized the children enjoyed it because they could let off steam, use their enthusiasm and energy. He sought a way to turn their energy into some useful channel. He drilled the children, and sent them through the streets of Florence singing, "Jesus Christ is King", and collecting alms for the poor. Their energy was not suppressed — it was simply converted to right uses.

Scientists talk about the "conservation of energy". They say energy may change its form and direction, but no energy is ever lost. In the spiritual realm also this rule is valid. Saul of Tarsus, the scholarly Pharisee, was a dynamo of power, bent on exterminating the Christian church. After his conversion he remained the scholar and zealot — but channelled his energy unto godliness.

The youth of our land represents a great reservoir of power. This power can be directed for good or evil. To direct their power into godly channels, our youth must know about God, the great Creator, the loving heavenly Father. They can learn by reading the Holy Bible, and by following the example set by Christian parents.

That boy of yours is bursting with energy. Is he running with a gang, getting in trouble with the police? Or is his energy spent in promoting the Kingdom of God in your community?

Dad and Mom, teach him it's far better to sing, "Jesus Christ is King" than to throw stones.

The Porterville fair is the largest event of its kind in California that operates without aid of state funds.

RADIO KFRE TO PROMOTE PORTERVILLE

PORTERVILLE, May 14 — The Porterville community will be featured on radio station KFRE, Fresno, for a five-day period, November 7-11, with facts about the community leaders, and information regarding outlook for the future, interspersed throughout the broadcast day.

Initial arrangement for the program was made recently at a luncheon at the Paul Bunyan, when Guy B. Farnsworth, general manager of the station, met with Porterville chamber of commerce and city officials.

Representing the chamber were President Don Howard, Manager Allan Coates, Jack Anglin, Ed. Plummer, Tex Davis, and Les Hamilton; representing the city were Mayor Bill Rodgers and City Manager Roy Pederson.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY — PORTERVILLE, CALIFORNIA

Thurs., May 14, 1964

REMEMBER SCENES like this? It's fair time again in Porterville, the time for family fun. Official opening of the fair is next Thursday, May 21, at 9 a.m., followed by three pleasant days and nights in the atmosphere of the old-time "country fair". Make that date now! See you at the fair.

Guthrie On Trade Trip

PORTERVILLE, May 14 — John Guthrie, president of the California Cattle Feeders' association, and vice president of the National Cattlemen's association, is in Europe traveling with a special delegation sent by President Lyndon B. Johnson to seek markets for beef.

Members of the delegation are spending two weeks talking with trade officials in Italy, The Netherlands, Spain, France, Great Britain, and other European nations.

STAN TRUEBLOOD ON COMMISSION

PORTERVILLE, May 14 — Stan Trueblood, manager of the Tulare County Fruit Exchange since 1947, has been named by President Lyndon B. Johnson as a member of a 25-man National Agricultural Advisory commission.

The commission will serve in an advisory capacity to the secretary of agriculture, but will report to the president on matters relating to agricultural policy in the nation. Members serve without pay; the commission is expected to meet about four times a year.

Homecoming

SPRINGVILLE, May 14 — Former residents, and present residents of Springville, will get together Sunday, May 17, to reminisce about the "good old days" at annual Springville Homecoming.

A potluck lunch will be served in the Springville Memorial building at 12 noon, with the committee to furnish coffee, bread, cream and sugar; persons attending are asked to bring their own tableware.

Co-chairmen for the event are: Virginia Radeleff, 539-2720, and Frank Negus, 539-2549.

SALUTE TO AGRICULTURE LUNCHEON MONDAY NOON; STARY GANGE IS SPEAKER

PORTERVILLE, May 14 — A "Salute to Agriculture" will be given Monday noon at a luncheon meeting of business men and farmers at Gang Sue's, with Stary Gange, nationally-known speaker, of Visalia, to deliver the principle address — "There'll Be Some Changes Made".

Gange, who is special consultant for the Southern California Gas company, and who has been on the speaker's circuit for the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, has spoken in every state in the union and has traveled a million miles in the past 14 years.

Chamber of commerce directors, headed by Chamber President Don Howard, and members of the Porterville Merchants' committee, headed by Ed. Plummer, promise an inspirational and humorous talk by Gange, in keeping with his traditional style. They also urge business men to invite farmers as guests.

Tickets for the noon lunch are available at the Porterville chamber office.

The Salute To Agriculture theme is being carried through the business community for a period of two weeks — currently, this week, merchants are featuring cotton, in keeping with National Cotton week; next week they will salute agriculture generally in connection with the Porterville fair.

At the fair's night show Thursday and Friday a salute to agriculture will be included, with specific emphasis on the livestock industry. Future Farmers will parade their show animals Thursday night, and 4-H club members on Friday night.

Fine Stock From Western States To Compete In Quarter Horse Show

PORTERVILLE, May 14 — Top stock from western states — including Tulare county — will be entered in annual Quarter Horse show that is a feature of the Porterville fair.

The show will start at 10 a.m., Thursday, May 21, and continue on into the afternoon, with halter classes, and one action class. Judge will be Bill Verdugo, from Fresno State college.

Fair Director Guido Lombardi states that from 150 to 200 horses will be entered in the show that is approved by the Pacific Coast and National Quarter Horse associations.

Mrs. Bill Beaver is serving as show secretary; entries close May 18.

MORRIS RANCH QUARTER HORSES RATE HIGH AT SALINAS VALLEY FAIR: THEY'RE READY FOR PORTERVILLE SHOW

PORTERVILLE, May 14 — Morris Ranch Quarter horses did just about as well as horses could do at the Salinas Valley fair in King City last week, the 11 head shown all winning places, including firsts in four classes.

Showing the horses were Paul and Eva Morris, and Mary Ann Foell, who state that they're all ready now for the Quarter Horse show at the Porterville fair next Thursday morning.

At Salinas the Morris ranch took firsts in: Yearling filly, two-year-old filly, three-year-old filly and get-of-sire by their great stud, "Coaster".

Six seconds included: Yearling colt, two-year-old filly, aged stallion, get-of-sire by Coaster, produce-of-dam, and group of mares; thirds were won for: Yearling filly, produce-of-dam, and group of mares; and one fourth: Yearling colt.

Resume Of Agricultural Employment In Southern Valley Area Is Given By Farm Labor Service Official

Department of Employment

FRESNO, May 14 — Agricultural employment in the southern San Joaquin valley this week shows a large gain over last week, 75,500 hired workers against 67,000 last week and against 64,300 the same week one year ago.

Further, migration of workers to the valley is somewhat greater than last year at this same time. In the five-county area there are some 200 Contract Foreign Workers (Braceros) employed in the harvesting of lettuce. This is unusual for this area to have Braceros employed at this time of the year; however, due to the availability of jobs more pleasing to the domestic worker, i.e. other than stoop labor jobs, these Braceros are needed even though they constitute only a minor fraction of the total employment.

Farm employment opportunities are gaining momentum, and workers can avail themselves of employment in various activities, such as:

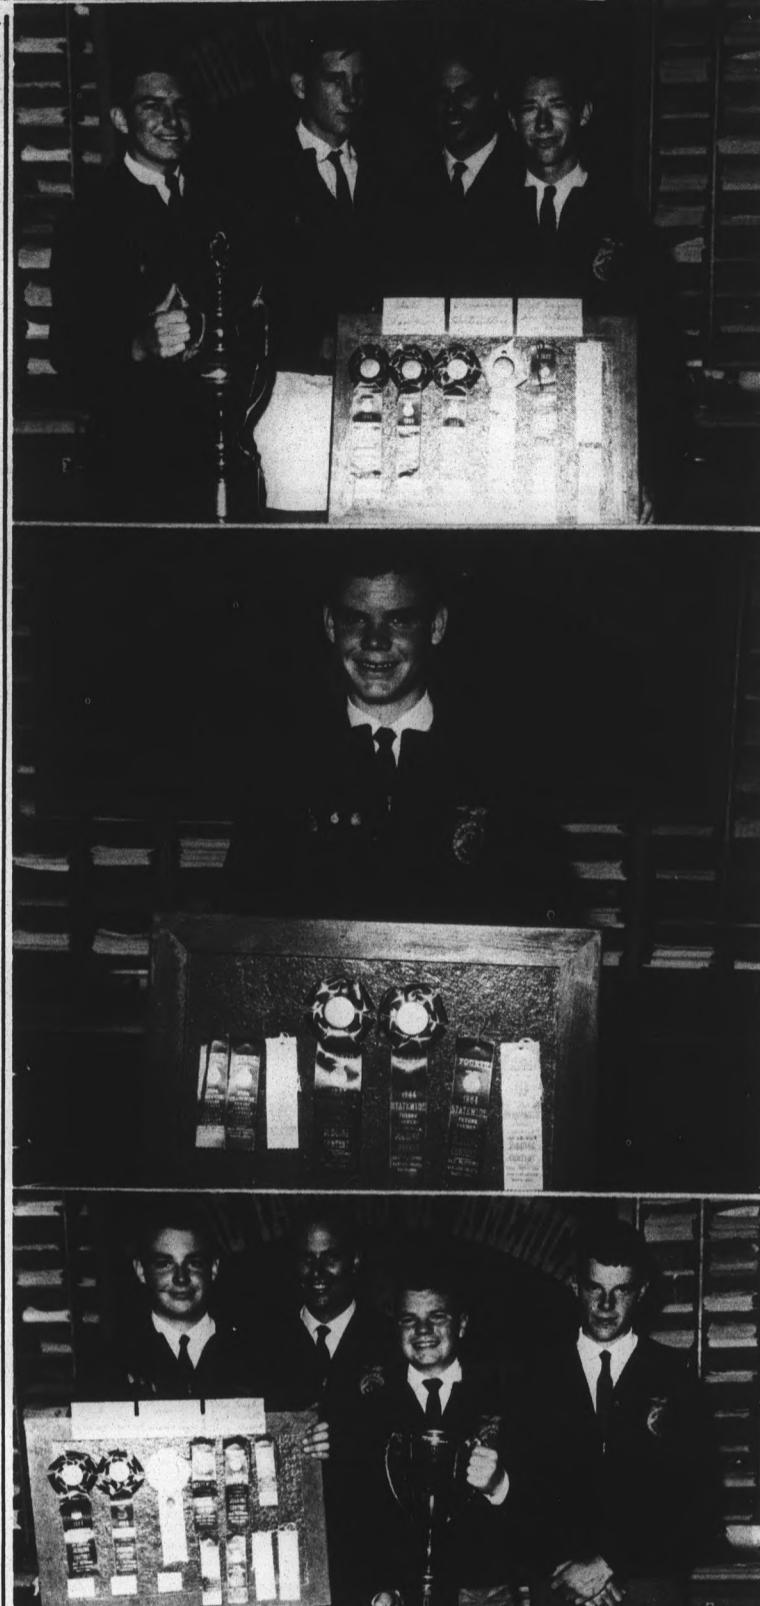

Chopping of cotton, in Fresno, Tulare and Kern counties, where there are some 1,000 to 1,500 openings available; Fruit thinning, peaches and plums, 1,000 openings in Fresno, Kings, Kern and Tulare counties; Thinning and girdling of grapes is just getting underway and Tulare and Kern counties show jobs available for both men and women.

This is an interesting time of the year to take a good look at the employment potentials for workers interested in agricultural employment. Any single worker, family group, or crew can remain employed from about May 1, through December in the harvest of cotton, with full employment if he so desires. Most of the work is semi-skilled in that anyone showing interest can be easily trained right on the job to do the bulk of the coming work.

In May workers can readily find work in fruit thinning or field work for thinning vegetables and cotton. In June, July, August and September ample work is available in fruit harvest — peaches, nectarines, plums, apricots and grapes, raisin, wine and table. Practically all these jobs can use men, women and youth. In late September, October, November and December the cotton harvest opens up for all workers.

For those with skills, or a desire to take training, there are jobs all winter in the pruning of approximately 174,000 acres of orchards and 320,000 acres of vineyards. With all these tremendous jobs available for the balance of the year, there is ample opportunity

Once a person has taken possession of a new TV set there sometimes arises the question of where to place it for maximum effect.

The first consideration, of course, is to locate the set where it can be viewed comfortably by all in the family. Interior decor is a factor, as are practical considerations such as not placing the set too close to radiators, drapes or curtains. Keep direct rays of the sun off the screen, and try to place the set where reflections are not cast on the screen by lamps or windows.

Speaking now of old sets, how is yours performing? If your picture slips, slides, flips over or is as fuzzy as a London fog, call on DARE'S TELEVISION SERVICE, 7368 W. Olive, for fast, economical service. Phone 784-6209 . . . Quality work . . . Cash basis.

THE GRAND champion sells! That's Greg Dunbar in the sale ring with his grand champion steer of the 1963 Porterville fair; the auctioneer is Harry Hardy, of Bakersfield, who has donated his services to the Porterville fair for several years, and who will be the man with the hammer again this year. But - who'll be in the ring this year with that grand champion steer?

Farmers and 4-H club members who sell their fitted and finished animals to complete their livestock projects, and those persons who are so fortunate as to buy a beef animal, a barrow or a lamb for their locker or home freezer.

The junior exhibitors pick up a few cents above market — which their animals are worth — the purchasers get some of the best meat that it is possible to produce, and even after paying a premium still have fine eatin' meat at well below retail prices.

Auctioneers for the sale will be

Col. Harry Hardy, and son, Skinner, from Bakersfield, who have called the sale for several years; Russell Reece will be in charge of ring personnel; clerking the sale will be Earl W. Reed; cashier will be Emerson Leisure, and Judge George Carter and Chet Griswold will be sale manager and assistant, respectively.

It is requested that settlement be made at time of purchase; consignors — FFA and 4-H exhibitors, can pick up their checks at Security First National bank, Porterville branch, on Monday, May 25.

Pushing the auction also through brochures and by assisting in handling the sale are personnel of Crocker-Citizen bank in Porterville.

Indications now are that 101 steers, 43 hogs and 69 lambs will go through the sales ring at the auction.

Persons desiring to purchase animals, or halves or quarters, should contact Judge Carter, Griswold, or Rolla Bishop, if they cannot attend the sale and do their own bidding.

213 Animals Listed For Auction; Total Of 361 Head Entered In Fair That Will Open Thursday, May 21

PORTERVILLE, May 14 — Future Farmers and 4-H club exhibitors will enter 361 animals in the 1964 Porterville fair, May 21, 22 and 23, it was reported this week, following a check of entry blanks by fair directors in charge of livestock.

With entries closing last Saturday, Judge George Carter states that 213 animals have been listed for the fair's annual Junior Fat Stock auction, and if all animals survive screening, 101 steers, 43 hogs and 69 lambs will sell.

In addition to fat animals listed for sale, 10 steers, 46 hogs, and 47 lambs have been entered, while the dairy division has 45 animals.

Because of limited facilities, fair directors restricted this year's fat stock auction, resulting in a reduction in hogs and lambs entered, however, steers are about the same. The total of 361 head of livestock is down slightly from last year because of facility problems.

Exhibitors will start moving animals in the afternoon of May 20, and will be ready to go the morning of May 21, when judging will start at 9 a.m.

TUBERCULOSIS in the GOOD OLD DAYS

Back in 1900, folks called tuberculosis "The Galioping Consumption." TB was, in fact, our nation's leading killer, and it spared neither young nor old. Fresh air and bed rest were about the only treatments known.

Quite a few people still catch TB today, but new drugs have already cut their death rate by more than 95%. Patients who once would have spent grim years in hospital or sanitarium, today are being returned to productive life, thanks to prescription drugs.

This is an example of how prescription drugs not only save lives, but also reduce the cost of illness. The price of today's drugs is remarkably low. Only 15 prescriptions in a thousand cost as much as $10. The average one costs only $3.26. No wonder we say: "Today's prescription is the biggest bargain in history."

YOUTH RECOGNITION

... IS PART OF OUR BUSINESS TOO

In keeping with our long established policy of presenting achievement awards to youthful contestants in all fields of endeavor, we are making available this year the above trophies to youngsters who excel in these classes at the annual Porterville Junior Livestock Show.

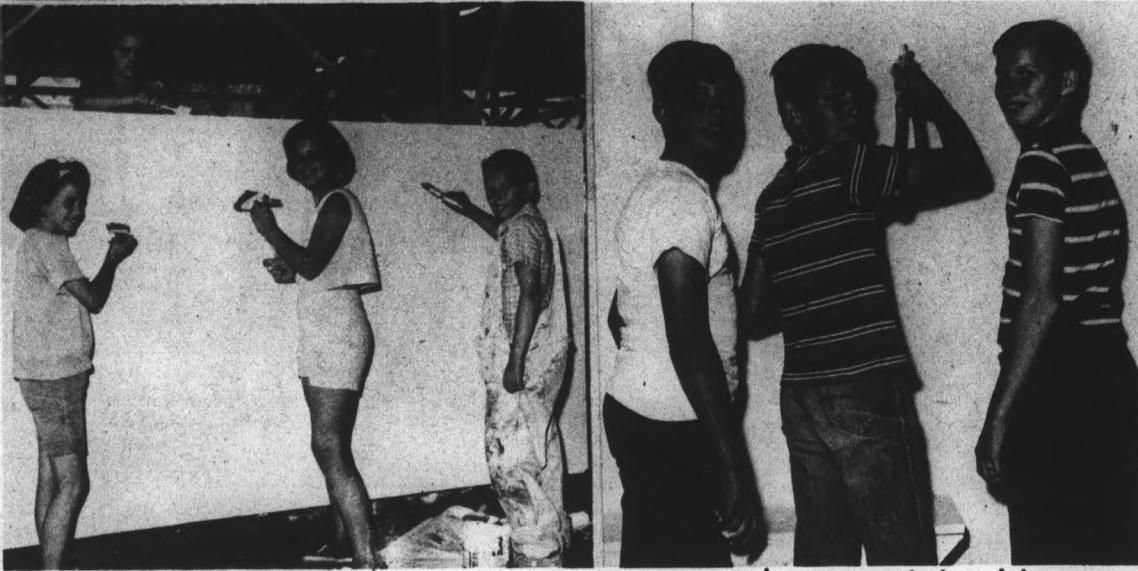

The awards, in addition to recognizing the youths' own merits, also pay honor to three of the fair's original board directors by bearing their names. They are: Cyrille Faure, Rolla Bishop and Freeland Farnsworth.

We deem it a privilege to have been selected to present these and similar awards to our community youth, and accept them as a part of our responsibility as a citizen and a businessman.

THERE'S WORK as well as fun at the Porterville fair - livestock must be taken care of, and groomed to perfection for the show ring, and as

fair, even work is fun, in fact the satisfaction and fun that individuals get out of working for the fair is the extent of their pay. And several hundred people feel that the pay is good; that's why the Porterville fair continues as a community project.

Don't hesitate, make a date for the Porterville fair.

Future Farmers and 4-H club members exhibit the finest cattle, swine and lambs produced in the West at the Porterville fair.

Farm Labor

for anyone capable of using his hands and feet to remain continuously employed. The California Department of Employment, Farm Labor service, stands ready to assist workers in maintaining a steady continuity of employment.

The department is further interested in assisting growers with their labor problems. At the present time many studies are being made to determine the numbers of agricultural workers available to California agriculture. Some results are already being published. For instance, on a quarterly basis, we know:

1. The total number of different workers who had earnings in agriculture.
2. The approximate amount of time they worked in agriculture.
3. The amount of their earnings in agriculture.
4. The number of employers for whom each worked.
5. The number who worked less than full time in agriculture.

From this data certain conclusions can be drawn. For example, it is quite evident that there is grave under-utilization of agricultural workers in this state. As indicated in recent published figures there were from 150,000 workers in the January - March quarter to 262,000 in the July - September quarter of last year, that were under-employed. This does not demonstrate that there are enough domestic workers to do all the farm jobs in California, but it does give grounds for further study and effective solutions. This can only be done through assistance and cooperation between employers, the community and the department.

Let's go to the fair, May 21, 22, 23.

BARRY WELDON has been a contender at the Porterville fair for several years, and last year he turned his fat lamb into a grand champion. He might be back this year, or he might not, since competition is tough at the Porterville fair. At any rate, the grand champion lamb for 1964 will be judged at 7 p.m., Friday, May 23, on the fair grounds. (Farm Tribune photo)
